OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

PASSED AT LAST—THE INSURRECTION—THE COMMONS STAFF—MORE LAND GRANTS—THE NEW LOAN—GOING AHEAD—NEWS NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, June 13.

The agony is at last over. After a period of thirty-seven working days the committee stage on the franchise bill is concluded, and the hearts of the members, ministerial and opposition, rejoice thereat. All that remains of the bill to be considered are the schedules, and the money clause fixing the remuneration of the revising barristers, which latter will be introduced by resolution upon the third reading, after the bill has been re printed The fight over the measure has been a stubborn one, and there is no parallel in Canadian history to the obstruction which has taken place. True it is that the measure has been considerably modified, and the opposition will claim that this is due to the policy they have pursued. It is just questionable, however, whether they have any right to make any such assumption, as a few moments' reflection will lead the thoughtful reader to the conclusion that all the necessary amendments might have been made after discussions lasting one fourth of the time that has been taken. The fact remains which cannot be gainsaid that obstruction has been practiced, and no one can foresee what the initiation of this policy may have on the future of Canadian politics. The premier, during the whole of the discussion, has preserved a manly and dignified bearing, ready and willing to make concessions, and shown himself capable of preserving his temper under circumstances of extreme provocation. Some of his hot-headed followers have urged a revision of the rules of parliament and the insertion of something like the cloture, but Sir John set his face firmly against such a proposition, and said his determination was to have the rules for speaking in the Canadian parliament, while he had any authority in the matter, as free or freer than those of any other parliamentary body in the world.

THE COLONIAL EXHIBITION.

Many people were under the impression that the Colonial and Indian exhibition to be held in London next year had dropped through. This feeling became prevalent at the time the war cloud was hanging so darkly over England and Russia a few weeks ago. The skies having cleared, the directors seemingly are inclined to push the preparations, and Canada will have to stick to the agreement she has made to advance a sum of $50,000 towards meeting the expenses. The bill with this object in view passed through the house on Friday. When the scheme was first proposed it was intended that the Canadian exhibits should be shown at the Antwerp exhibition now in progress and then passed on to London. There has not been such a response for Antwerp by our manufacturers as the minister of Agriculture was led to believe there would be, but he states that many who declined sending exhibits to Belgium have signified their intention of sending goods to London. The space acquired is 54,000 square feet in a very prominent position, so that if all this is occupied by Canada she will have a splendid representation.

THE INSURRECTION.

General Middleton's efforts to catch Big Bear have proved unavailing, that wily gentleman having used his heels to the best advantage. It is a regretable fact that our troops have been thwarted in this way, for so long as Big Bear is at liberty he will be a standing menace to the peace and order of the Northwest Territories, and our settlers will not have that feeling of security which they otherwise would have had. His being at large will necessitate the continuance of a large force of men in the neighborhood of Fort Pitt and Battleford in order to afford protection to those districts, but on whom the duty will fall is not very clear. The mounted police force, even when increased to 1,000 men will not be equal to the duty, as it would be folly to concentrate them at one or two places, leaving the other districts of the Northwest unprotected. There is no doubt of the fact that in the recent struggle the police force has not acted a creditable part, and when it might have been expected that they would bear the brunt of the fighting, the evidence is clear that they have had the easiest time of any of those engaged. The Indians look upon them with derision and have dubbed them "gophers." This is a lamentable state of affairs and has probably destroyed the influence of the police for all time to come. How the present position has been brought about it is not easy to say, but it may probably be accounted for by the manner in which the corps has been officered, men totally unfit for the duties having received commands and brought discredit on the whole force by their incompetency. People are asking how it is that Major Walsh, one of the best men who ever donned an officer's uniform in the force, was relieved at the beginning of the campaign, and it is the general opinion that had he been in charge, the police would have rendered far more efficient service during the campaign than they have. The only manner in which the force can regain its prestige and influence is by re-organization, making it a purely military body, and this, I understand, it is the intention of the government to do. At present it is managed by a civil officer stationed at Ottawa, and it seems the height of absurdity that the force should be controlled by an official stationed in some cases nearly 3,000 miles away from the men under him. Winnipeg or Regina should be the headquarters of whoever is placed in supreme command.

DEATH OF A MEMBER.

Mr. W. T Benson, member for South Granville, Ont., died suddenly at his residence on Monday. Mr. Benson was an Englishman by birth, but has resided in Canada for many years past. He was returned to the house of commons at the last general election, but never took an active part in the discussions of the house. He was a quiet, unassuming gentleman, diligent in his attendance at parliament, and universally esteemed by members on both sides of the house. The eloquent and feeling tributes paid to his memory by Sir John and Mr. Blake were well merited. "I feel that I have suffered a great personal loss," said Sir John, and the party to which our late lamented friend belonged has also suffered materially. The widow of the late member is at present on her way to Algeria, where her son is staying for the benefit of his health.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS STAFF.

The report of the internal commissioner of the house of commons on the organization of the house staff as a regular branch of the civil service was laid on the table yesterday by Mr. Speaker. All employés of the house have been graded into the chief branch, the translation branch and the miscellaneous branch. Chief clerks are to receive $2,400; first-class clerks, $1,800; second-class, $1,400, and third-class clerks, $1,000 maximum salaries per annum. The chief branch is to comprise five first-class, seven second-class and three third-class clerks. The law and translation department will employ nine men and the miscellaneous branch ten men The clerk of the house and the law clerk will receive $3,200 each, the two librarians $3,000 each. The salaries of a number of officials have been increased, but it is claimed in the report that the reorganization will in time reduce the expenditure of the house of commons.

THE NEW LOAN.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, acting minister of finance during Sir Leonard Tilley's absence in England has given notice of the following resolution:—"That in addition to the sum now remaining unborrowed and negotiable of the loans authorized by parliament by any act heretofore passed, the governor general-in-council be authorized to raise by way of loan such sum or sums of money not to exceed in the whole the sum of $30,000,000, as may be required for the purpose of paying the floating indebtedness of the Dominion and for the carrying on of public works authorized by the parliament of Canada, the rate of interest on the sums so to be raised by loan not to exceed 4 per cent. per annum.

GOING AHEAD.

Now that the franchise bill is practically out of the way a great deal of miscellaneous legislation has been advanced during the week. The bill respecting the adulteration of food and drugs came down from the senate and received its second reading. The chief provision subjects food and drugs for cattle, and fertilisers for manuring purposes, to the same analysis as food and drugs for human purposes. Closely allied to the latter section of the measure is the bill respecting fertilisers which was explained to the house by Mr. Chapleau. Its provisions compel every manufacturer and every importer of fertilisers to transmit to the minister of inland revenue at a certain period of the year, say January, and before offering for sale, a sample of such fertiliser, together with an affidavit stating that it is a fair sample of the article manufactured or sold. Another provision recites that no commercial fertilizer be offered for sale unless a certificate of analysis of the same be openly and publicly printed, stamped or labelled on the package, bags, or barrel containing it. Penalties are to be imposed upon parties proved guilty of infraction of the law. The measure in substance guarantees to our farmer the genuine article when they purchase an artificial manure.

THE INSURANCE BILL.

After the tremendous fight made on the government insurance bill in the Banking and Commerce committee it was surprising to see how easily it passed through the house this week. Had the measure been proceeded with when reported to the house two months ago there would have been a tremendous wrangle between the old line companies and those favoring the assessment principle. As it was the chief opponent to the bill in the committee, Dalton McCarthy, was away, others who had fought over the bill had seemingly lost their ardor, and the measure passed through with slight amendments, the most important one being that the restrictions on American mutual companies operating in Canada should also apply to companies whose headquarters were in Canada, excepting the latter, however, from being obliged to put up a deposit of $50,000 with the government

LAND GRANTS.

Some capitalists are coming in for a big snap in the Northwest by the tremendous land grants they are receiving. It seems, however, to be the only way the government has of inducing the construction of branch railway lines in the territories. Resolutions were adopted on Thursday authorizing a grant of 3800 acres per mile to the Northwestern Coal and Navigation company from Medicine Hat to Hudson river, 110 miles; of 6400 acres per mile to the Manitoba Southwestern Colonization and Railway company from Portage la Prairie to the crossing of the South Saskathawan, 430 miles, and of 6400 acres per mile to the Qu'Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchawan Railway and Steamboat company from Regina to the navigable waters of Long lake, the companies to pay ten cents per acre for cost of surveys.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Rev. Mr. Duncan of Methkatlah and four of his Indians have arrived in the city to interview the government with respect to their troubles.

The house did not sit to-day, most of the French members being in Montreal attending the funeral of Archbishop Bourget.

The net debt of Canada on the 31st of May was $191,886,199, and the gross debt $258,711,088.

It is thought that the prorogation will take place about the second week in July.

THE IRISH BISHOPS AT ROME.

The reception given to the Irish Roman Catholic bishops at Rome, the subjects discussed in their conferences at the Vatican, the general tone and purport of His Holiness's observations upon Irish affairs, the attitude assumed by the prelates against the British government, and, above all, the pending question as to Cardinal McCabe's successor in the Archbishopric of Dublin—these constituted the most prominent and pressing topics which engaged the attention of Nationalists in the brief suspension of the parliamentary campaign. They possessed more abiding interest than such incidents as the visit of Messrs. Healy and Biggar to Belfast, and their reconnoisance of the political position in Ulster. The circumstantial account of the interviews between the Pope and Bishop Nulty with reference to the last remarkable pastoral of the bishop, and particularly certain passages in the address of the prelates to which exception was taken on the part of His Holiness, has greatly exercised the minds of the Parnellite party and those who sympathize with them. Its accuracy is impeached in coarse terms by a correspondent of the Freeman at Rome; but the testimony of this not disinterested but hostile writer shows plainly that the pastoral called forth some observations from the Pope which touched the sensitive nature of the bishop and called forth an emphatic but suggestive disclaimer. The correspondent denies that there was any "coolness" in Bishop Nulty's reception, and says His Holiness received the Irish prelates one and all with marked cordiality, making no distinction in this respect in his demeanor towards the respected Bishop of Meath. His Holiness conversed with each of the bishops in succession, and in the course of his remarks to Bishop Nulty some reference was made to the pastoral of which the press has endeavored to make so much. Bishop Nulty informed His Holiness that ever since he had told the story of the evictions at Mount Nugent, the English Press had always vilified and misrepresented him. "I would rather cut off my right hand," he declared warmly, "than say one word against your Holiness." The Pope assured his lordship that he had not been misled by the comments of the English Press, adding that the offering given by his lordship was a sure sign of his devotion and that of his flock to the Holy See, and concluding with the words, "Your right hand will not be cut off." The conversation then turned upon the so-called mission of Mr. Errington to Rome, and His Holiness remarked, "What can I do with this gentleman? He does not approach me." His Holiness added energetically that he did not want Mr. Errington to come near him, that he had not seen him for over a year. "Nor shall he ever see me," concluded His Holiness. He states that at the close of the interview the bishop was commanded to assemble his priests and flock in his cathedral, and to give them the Pope's blessing, and that the best proof that could be given of the warmth and kindness with which His Holiness received the bishop lies in the fact that he acceded to all their requests, "as time will sufficiently demonstrate." This remains to be seen. He repeats positively the announcement that Dr. Walsh will be appointed to the Archbishopric of Dublin, although the appointment will not be formally made for some time. This does not accord with the tone of the Moniteur, which is generally regarded as the special organ of the Vatican. It points out that the appointment is not a purely Irish question, but affects the general interests of the church, "which must be cared for even at the price of sacrifice." A full report of all that passed between the Pope and the Irish bishops would, no doubt, be very interesting, but curiosity is not likely to be gratified, and only partial glimpses of the interviews can be obtained. These derive their tone and colour from the sympathies of the writers, and the various phases which the subject assumed at different times.

ENGLAND'S FUTURE.

The telegram a few days ago conveyed a very partial report of Mr. Goldwin Smith's speech at Ithaca. Even if he said all that he is made to say, he did not leave the impression he is made to leave. Speculations as to the possible disintegration of the British empire are made every day, just as people discuss the future of the coal fields or of the wheat trade But we are pretty sure that Mr. Smith does not look forward to the proximate retirement of England from active empire No one man, however, has done more than he to belittle the future of England. By his advocacy of a continental policy in America and Australia, he excommunicates England from the commonwealth of eoples over which she now presides. He as been as active an advocate of imperialism in England as he has been of secession for Canada. He has been as determined that she should retain dominion over countries that were not prepared for self-government as that she should be forsaken by those which are. His forecast seems to be an isolated England embarrassed and held back by a disaffected Ireland and a number of semi-civilized dependencies. We have quite a different one. The federation of the three kingdoms seems to be generally looked upon as near. The house of lords may then become a mere local affair, and must in any case soon give way. The Montreal Witness says that England will soon be ready to invite all her offsprings, including the United States, to join her in her mission for the civilization of India and such other countries as must before long seek her protectorate.

A Marital Sensation.

SPOKANE FALLS, June 25.—Spokane Falls has been enjoying a genuine social sensation for the past two days. Tuesday evening, W. S. Crouch, a young man in the employ of Taylor, Sharkey & Co., eloped with Miss Della Pineo, a highly respectable young lady of this city. They went to Cheney and were married, and yesterday returned to this city. They drove to the young lady's home, but were refused admission. Later in the day the young lady's father swore out a warrant against the young man, on a charge of perjury, for swearing before the county auditor that the young lady was of age. The case will come up for examination this week. The affair has created a great deal of comment.

Lord Spencer Last Reception.

A Wicked Little Girl.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN, June 27.—There was a much larger crowd of prominent people at the farewell reception of Earl Spencer to day than was anticipated the rooms being so densely thronged that it was difficult for those present to move about with any degree of comfort. The earl, in the presence of the assembled guests, knighted Secretary Kaye and Commissioner Greene for the part they took in making the recent visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Ireland a success. Every precaution was taken to prevent the invincibles from perpetrating outrages, all packages destined for the castle being carefully examined before being conveyed inside the building, for fear they might contain dynamite. A large force was stationed in the courtyard and numerous detectives in full dress suits mingled with the crowd. The streets, through which Earl Spencer will have to pass in going to the railway station en route to London, were lined with soldiers. The earl is about starting on his homeward journey and the sun is shining brightly.

SOUTHERN STATES.

BARNESVILLE, S. C., June 27.—Rebecca Samuels, twelve years old, has been convicted of the murder of Lucy Graham, a six weeks old infant she was nursing. She soaked the child in a pot of concentrated lye. The only cause for the crime is that the prisoner killed the child to escape nursing It is said this is the second crime of the same kind she has committed within two years. She appeared to be totally unconscious of what was going on during the trial, and twice went to sleep in the dock with her head resting on her hands.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

LA LIBERTAD, via Galveston, June 27.—One thousand eight hundred Nicaraguans embarked here last night, homeward bound. At the battle of Santa Domingo 5,000 of Menendizto's men hemmed in 500 Nicaraguans under Tabarar, who was wounded. They fought for thirty-two hours, then cut their way through Menendizto's line, losing 300 killed and wounded and taking the remainder into La Union in good order.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Jas. D. Fish, late president of the Marine Bank, was sentenced this morning to ten years imprisonment by Judge Benedict, in the U. S. court, for defalcations.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The feeling here against the president's cast in house appointment is decidedly bitter. It is said to be a crying shame, and that the president has made a gross blunder. Madden, the collector, has never done anything for the democracy, and in appointing him the president has insulted the New York democrats.

Murdered a Temperance Man.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—Luther K. Bruce, a leading druggist, shot and killed J. C. Lentz, a prominent merchant and Justice of the Peace, at Douglas, Ill., yesterday. The affair grew out of an attempt to suppress the liquor traffic, Lentz being a strong temperance man and Bruce a supporter of the whiskey cause.

A CLERICAL ROMANCE.

The Sequel to an Oldtime Scandal

Which Agitated Victoria 25 Years Ago.

The San Francisco Post of late date contains the story of an English clergyman, a graduate of Oxford, his young wife and a "friend of the family" named Toms. The Post calls the clergyman Garrey and says he arrived in Victoria via San Francisco in 1865, that he was drunken and dissipated and after disgracing his cloth by being seen in a state of intoxication on the streets of Victoria was deposed from the ministry, and his wife ran away with Toms. This narrative is incorrect in some particulars, although right in the main. The clergyman's name was Harvey. He and his wife,—a beautiful young English girl—were married shortly before embarking for Victoria, direct, in a bark called the "Heather Bell." The bark, in addition to Harvey and his bride, had another passenger—a handsome Englishman. The clergyman, it turned out in the course of the voyage, was fond of his "drop," and by the time the bark arrived at Victoria after a voyage of about six months he had become a drunkard Upon the arrival of the vessel at Victoria she discharged cargo (the material of which St. John's church is constructed) on a rickety wharf which then stood at the foot of Yates street. Harvey entered upon the discharge of of his clerical duties; but it was soon seen that his

and he was frequently seen intoxicated on the streets. He was a "thickset" brutish looking man" but deeply learned, having taken high honors at his university. The Post proceeds:

In Victoria a dinner was given to the new arrival. The people were delighted with his wife and him. The dinner was in the form of an ovation to the distinguished additions to the British colony. Everything passed off admirably until the ladies retired and left the gentlemen to their wine. Then the host took the floor.

"He was proud," he said, "to welcome to this Eden in the far west a young and distinguished countryman, henceforth to labor with him in the dissemination of the gospel. Mr. Garrey was not unknown to them. His treatise on the Greek particicies was read and appreciated by the scholarly portion of this community which, he was proud to say, was not inconsiderable." And so on, concluding by asking his guests to rise and drink Mr Garrey's health, which they did with a hearty good will.

Then Mr. Garrey rose to reply. As he got on his feet those nearest him noticed that his face was flushed and his hand shook. He said: "Mr. ——, and my friends: If you think that I intend passing the best portion of my life in this infernal hole, and as I at once perceive you are, you have have made a thundering mistake, I tell you."

The guests were simply paralyzed. But when the Reverend Mr. Garrey went on to denounce their esteemed host as a baldheaded old owl, a drunken Toby Fosspot and a disgrace to the community they pulled him down and then discovered that Mr. Garrey was quite as intoxicated as the historic piper that played before Moses.

The scandal was hushed up, and Mr. Garrey entered upon his duties. But the second Sunday of his ministrations saw him and then the truth became generally known that the gifted young Oxford man was a chronic and irreclaimable inebriate. They labored with him, but in vain. His heartbroken wife schemed and implored, but it was of no avail. Garrey was a constitutional drunkard; and had been so for years. He now indulged the habit openly, rolled along the streets of Victoria singing bacchanalian songs, and the result, of course, was that he lost his pulpit. Fortunately he had no children, and one morning he awoke from a debauch to find that his home was empty.

His wife had fled with Toms to San Francisco. Thither Harvey followed and there he died some years later in a drunken orgie. Toms committed suicide in the same city, and the woman, deserted and penniless, was sent home to her friends in England, a mere wreck of her former beautiful self. Residents of Victoria a quarter of a century ago will remember Harvey and his beautiful wife and the good looking stranger who was always by her side; but their sad, and perhaps, fitting end was never before published here.

Late Cable News.

LONDON, June 17.—One of the ugliest heritages of the Conservative cabinet will be the Afghan question. While the Marquis of Salisbury will use his utmost endeavors to maintain peaceful relations with Russia, his whole past record and his recent speeches alike must prevent his accepting compromises even remotely imperilling the honor and prestige of England. The St. Petersburg papers have assumed a different tone. They are no longer truculent, but point with alarm to the possible consequences of the change of government. The Pall Mall Gazette, which has advocated the Russian cause to such an extent as to create a suspicion of its being a subsidized organ of the Russian government, has an editorial this afternoon on the Afghan question. The article is supposed to be inspired by M. Lessar, Russian agent. It says unless the Marquis of Salisbury wishes to deepen the conviction of Russia that his ministry is a menace of war, he will cancel the appointment of Lord Churchill as secretary of state for India. There is also a rumor that this appointment would not be favorably received in India lest it would lead to the resignation of Earl Dufferin, but this is a contingency too remote to demand serious consideration. Lord Churchill is entitled to a place in the cabinet, and it is generally believed that he will discharge the duties of the Indian secretary very satisfactorily.

THE concentrated power and curative virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla render it the most reliable and economical medicine that can be used. OTTER'S COMMAND.

Unmistakable Traces of Big Bear.

FORT PITT, June 15, via Straubenzie, June 18.—Two scouts just arrived from Otter's column, Turtle Lake, report that three days ago they came upon the unmistakable trail of Big Rear moving eastward, 100 miles north of Turtle Lake. Two days previously they surprised a party of six Indians, and captured their horses and truck. Big Bear's trail shows that the chief still has

with him. The scouts found a brush case bearing McLean's name on it. This was likely left intentionally, and shows that the prisoners are with the Indians moving eastward. Big Bear's name was also found written in Cree. Col. Otter was encamped at the southerly end of Turtle Lake when the scouts left, and is probably now to come up with Indians. His transport is good, and he should be able to overtake them. The steamer Baroness arrived here to-night from the Elbow with Col. Deacon in command of two companies of the Midland Battalion on their way to Frog Lake to join Col. Williams. The steamer also brought contributions from Toronto people for the Grenadiers. There is great hilarity among the boys to-night. Capt. Manley, of the Grenadiers, and K. S. Macdonald, telegraph staff, and Major Dugas, of the 65th, have arrived. Sgt-Major Fury, Fisk and West, the injured men of Steele's party, are convalescent.

FORT PITT, June 20.—At 8 a.m. your correspondent, in from Otter's camp, Stanley lake, reports that Big Bear is making for Hen Lake. All his braves have rejoined him. Otter will pursue him to Birch lake. Otter has captured Yellow Sky and his band. They say they were not with Big Bear. They had forty cattle in their possession and admitted taking them from a ranch near Battleford. Strange's forces are still at Beaver river. Captain Bedson left with the vehicles this morning to meet McLean and other escaped prisoners.

The Dominion Government Place a £1,000,000 Loan on the Markets.

LONDON, Eng., June 19.—The prospectus of a new Canadian government loan was issued to-day through Glyn, Mills, Currie & Co., and Baring Brothers. The amount of the loan is four million pounds sterling, and the minimum price is placed at 99 per cent. The subscription lists will remain open till the 29th inst. The circumstances for the issue of a loan of this character are regarded as being very favorable.

The World's Industrial and Cotton Exposition.

NEW ORLEANS, May 29, 1885.

To Mr. Louis Grunewald, New Orleans, (agent of Messrs. Steinway & Sons, New York): Dear Sir—In making our official report as jurors of group 8, class 808, on musical instruments, we deeply regretted the fact of being debarred to express our opinion on the exquisite display of several magnificent Steinway Pianos at your beautiful exhibit at our exposition; but as they were not entered for competition, and only for exhibition, we had to abide by our instructions and ignore them as well as other makers for above reasons.

As professional artists, however, we feel it our sacred duty to express to you, unsolicited, our great admiration for the Steinway Pianos, which we consider the "Beau Ideal" of a perfect instrument, combining in its great mechanical construction all those eminent qualities of touch, sympathetic and singing qualities of tone, brilliancy, power, etc., which render them more than dear to any artist or amateur who loves music as produced on any of these wonderful and, we think, unsurpassed pianos.

Had the "Steinways" been entered for competition, our work, in place of being anything but easy and pleasant, would have become a labor of love, and instantaneously resulted in our conferring the "highest awards" possible to the Steinways. We write this after having individually expressed ourselves in mutual conversation, and tender this as a tribute to a firm which has done so much to elevate true musical art in this country, and which has the good fortune to be represented in our section by you, Mr. Grunewald, to whom we beg to tender our assurances of personal esteem and best wishes for future success.

Very respectfully and fraternally,
E. RICHARD,
H. JOUBERT,
G. D'AQUIN,
WM. H. PILCHER.

Mr. Von Horne assures Mr. Homer that the through line will be completed early in September and rails laid to the terminus.

Hard Times East.

A gentleman who returned Thursday from a visit to the east reports business very dull throughout Canada and the United States. Many large manufactories have closed permanently, and others are preparing to do so. Failures are numerous everywhere and a panicky feeling pervades all classes. No immediate improvement is looked for and the financial distress of men who, only a short time since, were supposed to be rolling in wealth is very great.

THE SCHOOL EXCURSION.

Visit to Esquimalt, H. M. S. Constance and a Trip in the Straits.

The excursion given by the trustees to the teachers and children of Victoria public schools on the steamer Yosemite yesterday afternoon was largely attended. Crowds of children dressed in their holiday suits, wended their way from the hour of one to the steamer, full of eager anticipation of the treat. Long before 2.30, the hour for starting, the trustees and their guests were safely on board, the children romping around the commodious vessel without the least restraint from the obliging officials, though carefully looked after by the teachers and trustees. At 2.45 the steamer, in charge of Capt. John Irving, pulled out from the wharf with its precious freight, and steamed quickly out of the harbor, around the neck of land and into Esquimalt harbor.

Arrangements had been completed with Capt. Doughty, of H. M. S. Constance, to allow the party to and as the Yosemite drew near the ship the scholars gave a rousing cheer responded to by officers and men on board the Constance, the latter's flag being dipped in salute, and the drum and fife band playing a lively air. The blue jackets and marines were assembled on deck, looking as only the British sailor can in their loose fitting suits, bonzed in feature by the life on the ocean wave. A few minutes were occupied in making fast and a gangway laid to the ladder leading to the main deck. The guests were received by Lieut. Smith Dorrien, the senior officer being absent, who

WELCOMED THEM HEARTILY.

The children were divided into companies, the teachers in charge of their respective classes, and marched to the deck of the war vessel. Here the divisions were received by blue jackets and taken over the whole of the ship, first along the deck and down the companion-way to the cabins, armory, sleeping berths, examining the arms and other implements of naval warfare, and exhibiting delight and interest in all they saw. Up the companion-way again to the main deck, and thence to the quarter-deck, where the

were placed, the band playing at intervals. At last the whole party was on board the Constance, and Lieut. Smith-Dorrien gave the free run of the vessel to the scholars without restraint, and young and old immediately took possession, the youngsters curiously investigating everything, peering into the guns and passing criticisms on the men and arms. Some of the boys climbed into the rigging with surprising dexterity, while others took and, with the assistance of one who got hold of a bugle, made a noise that would outstrip a Chinese orchestra in noise, or a charivari party in discord. They were unchecked in all their movements, and made themselves masters for the time being of the ship.

Having had a good long visit with the members of H. M. navy, the scholars again returned to the Yosemite and assembled on the decks. The trustees thanked the officers of the Constance for their great kindness, the visit to the vessel having proved a pleasure to young and old, and officers and men having done everything in their power to make them welcome.

THE LINES WERE CAST OFF

at five o'clock, and as the steamer backed out the excursionists returned their thanks by ringing cheers, waving handkerchiefs and good-byes. The blue jackets ran up the ropes to the yards and covered them to the top-yards, and returned the cheers until the steamer was out of hailing distance. A parting salute from the Constance flag, another from the dockyard flag, and the steamer headed down the straits nearly to when a turn was made, and thence to a ship looking gallant under full sail, which was passed at close quarters and proved to be the Valley Forge, of San Francisco. A hearty cheer was given them, and the steamer headed for Victoria, which was reached at 6:30. The Yosemite ran up the harbor, turned round and made fast to the Hudson Bay dock. Before coming to the wharf, at the proposal of Mr. Offerhaus,

THREE CHEERS AND A TIGER

were given the trustees, the superintendent of education and Captain Irving. Landing was then made and the party started for their homes, the children delighted with their happy outing, the teachers pleasant with the prospect of a well-earned rest, and the trustees gratified with the fact that their consideration in providing the excursion had been amply repaid by the joyous day spent. By actual count children and adults participated in the day's outing, which was one of pure pleasure, not an accident of any kind occurring to mar it. The large number of children behaved remarkably well, looked bright and fresh in their holiday clothes, and were well looked after by their teachers and friends. To say that it will be a day long remembered by them is needless.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday Wm. Hudson was brought to town on the R. P. Rithet from Salt Spring Island and conveyed from the wharf to St. Joseph's hospital. Two weeks since he left the Royal hospital where he had been receiving treatment for a broken leg, and it appears he left there contrary to the doctor's orders. On Friday morning he was walking near his house on crutches when he fell and struck his injured limb against a rock, breaking it in the same place again. He had to be carried six miles on a stretcher from his home to the boat landing, and by the time he arrived at the hospital appeared to be suffering severe pain.

THE MURDER OF HAMMILL.

Committal of Sproule for Willful Murder.

He will be Tried by Sir M. B. Begbie at Wild Horse.

A gentleman who has just returned from Kootenay states that R. E. Sproule was examined at a place called The Mines before Mr Vowell, S. M. The evidence showed that Hammill was shot in the back while in the act of working in the Blue Bell claim which was in dispute between the murderer and the company represented by his victim. The ball—from a Winchester rifle—went through the spine breaking it and came out in the thigh. Hammill lay writhing in agony until found an hour afterwards. In his anguish the poor man had beaten his face on the rocks so terribly that the features were destroyed and he was unrecognizable except by his voice and clothes! He told the cook of the camp, who first reached him, not to get excited; that he had been shot and directed him to get help. The cook flew to summon the miners. On his return in a few minutes Hammill was dead.

CAPTURE OF THE MURDERER.

Sproule was caught by Constable Anderson and a force of Indians who discovered him coming down a mountain trail five miles north of the boundary line. He had his rifle in a case in one hand and carried a bag of provisions in the other hand. Anderson covered him with his gun and after a moment's hesitation Sproule surrendered. He was taken before Mr. Rykert, J. P., who sent him by the steamer Reinder to The Mines. It is believed that Sproule will be tried before Sir M. B Begbie. Sproule had repeatedly if he ever did any work on the Blue Bell claim. The rifle used was a Winchester and Sproule stood behind his victim, who was unaware of his presence until the wound was received.

THE MINES.

The Kootenay Mining and Smelting Co are making energetic efforts to get to work this year. They have built a wagon road from Mud Slough on the Northern Pacific Railway line to Bonner's Ferry on Kootenay river and have a large-sized steamer running from the ferry to The Mines. They have a larger steamer on the ground. It will be called the Blue Bell. The company expect to do a large freight and passenger business.

FARWELL

has completely recovered from the late fire and a livelier town does not exist on the continent.

New Industry.

The building on Store street formerly occupied by Messrs. Dickson, Campbell & Co has been leased to the Mount Royal Milling Co., who are building a three-story addition and putting in the latest and most approved machinery for the cleaning and preparation of rice. There is now a cargo of rice in the hull on its way from China for this mill, which will be followed by others as required. The rice upon its arrival will be landed from the vessels at the wharf in the rear, carried on trucks upon a tramway to the building, where it will be elevated by steam to the top flat, and then go through the various necessary processes upon each flat, and by the time the ground floor is reached the raw material will have been transformed into every preparation known to the trade. The machinery, which is of the company's own manufacture, is expected to be in position in about six weeks, when operations will be immediately commenced. The works will be known as the Victoria Rice Mills, and will be under the able management of Mr. T. B. Hall, who has had many years experience in the business. It is expected that when the mill gets properly under way it will give employment to 25 or 30 men, and its capacity will be 30 tons in 24 hours. It will turn out only first class goods, which will be packed in various sized packages, ranging from 5 to 100 pounds. Besides supplying the market of this province, when the C. P. R. is completed it will be in a position to supply the country east as far as Lake Superior. The refuse and waste of the various preparations is in demand in the United States for cattle feed, and will no doubt be used and appreciated by the farmers of the province. There is only one other mill of this description in Canada, and on account of the mill here being able to lay down the raw material at a lower figure than can be done at any other point, and the manufactured article commanding a higher price, it should prove a very successful enterprise.

Mayne Island School Examination.

The examination of the Mayne Island school took place on Thursday and was attended by a number of the parents of the children, three trustees and others, among whom was the Hon. Mr. Smithe, member for the district. The exercises were done by the several classes in a very creditable manner. The prizes were presented by Hon. Mr Smithe who addressed the children and paid some well deserved compliments to the teacher, Mr. Phelps. During his remarks Mr. Smithe referred to the duty of parents in aiding the teacher in his efforts and showed how the teachers hands might be strengthened or weakened to the inevitable benefit or detriment of the scholars as the case might be. Mr Wm. Robson, one of the trustees, also addressed the children and wound up by inviting all to a picnic on the following day which he and Mrs Robson had arranged to mark the beginning of the holidays. The following is the prize list:

ROLL OF HONOR.

Wm Deacon, head of school.
Wm. Trueworthy, attendance.
Frank Neck, deportment.

Prizes were also awarded to Annie Bennett, Oscar Neck, Annie Robson and Frank Neck. Special prizes offered for the best behaved boys or girls to be decided by vote of the scholars were won by Wm. Trueworth, 1st; Frank Neck, 2nd.

ONE of the sights of the city of Hamilton is the factory in which the celebrated "Myrtle Navy" tobacco is made. Some people may suppose that putting up plugs of tobacco must be a very simple matter, but a walk among the ponderous and complicated machinery of this establishment would speedily undeceive them. Here are hydraulic presses, screw presses, iron frames, all of enormous strength, besides a steam engine and many other pieces of machinery.

New Buildings.

At the present time Rock Bay and the surrounding neighborhood is the scene of much activivity in the building trade. The clang of the hammer and whirr of the saw being heard in all directions, and the outlay of cash in erecting and renovating buildings will this year amount to several thousand dollars.

Mr. P. Wilson is erecting for Mr. Jas. Mann, a handsome commodious detached villa, it is being built from Mr. Mann's own design and after the Queen Anne style of architecture. It has a brick foundation, and the structure of the building proper is of frame, contains ten rooms, store and bath rooms, closets and pantries, one of the largest cellars in town, and when finished will possess all the modern improvements. The chimneys are arranged with ash and soot flues so that all the ashes and dust can be emptied from the cellar. This building will be surmounted with ornamental cresting which will add much to its appearance. Its completion is expected in about ten weeks, when it will be occupied by Mr. Mann's family.

Mr. George Mann also intends building a similar residence on an adjoining plot but on a smaller scale; he has built the foundation, and will shortly let the contract for the wood work.

On John street a cosy villa is being erected by Mr. Roble for Mr. George Collins. This is a frame building with a stone foundation, and contains five rooms, closets, pantries, side boards, bathroom and every modern convenience; on the roof is a very pretty observatory, which commands a fine view of the surrounding country; the material and work is first-class, and it is expected to be finished in about one month, when it will be occupied by the owner.

Higher up the street Messrs. Dowsett & Oxley are just completing a detached cottage for Mr. Fowler. This is a balloon frame building, containing five rooms, has verandahs front and rear, possesses all modern improvements, and is surrounded by a nice garden. The owner will also occupy this building as soon as completed.

Another dwelling-house is being commenced on the same street; the foundation is nearly laid and the contract is in the hands of Mr Holland, who will proceed with its construction at once.

Mr. Heathorn is repairing and renovating two six-roomed houses, situated near the tanneries, and will soon have them ready for occupancy.

Beside the buildings already mentioned others of smaller size, and additions to present constructions are being erected, which will greatly add to the appearance and population of the neighborhood.

Sunday Newspapers.

The Catholic Examiner says: "We notice that all the conventions of Protestant divines that have met recently have taken occasion before adjourning to open their vials of righteous indignation on the Sunday newspaper. Now, while every one must sympathize with these truly good men in their endeavors to preserve the sanctity of the Sabbath day, it must be said that their utterances in this newspaper subject show that they know very little about it. Did these clergymen condemn the Monday newspaper they would be nearer right. The Monday morning paper is, for the most part, set up on Sunday; the news for it is gathered on Sunday; the editors who make it up work upon it on Sunday, when they ought to be in church listening to the preacher discussing the tariff, political outlook, the eastern embroglio, or any of the other more or less sacred and important subjects over which the Protestant pulpit is wont to grow agitated. On the other hand, the editorial and reportorial work in the Sunday journal is done on Saturday, and in many instances it is printed before 12 o'clock on Saturday night."

Blue Ribbon Club.

A very interesting programme was presented to the audience last night, an attractive feature being a deputation from H. M. S. Constance, of blue jackets, members of the Blue Ribbon Club at Esquimalt, and as some of the men treated the audience to a song, their comrades would join in the chorus with a very pleasing effect. The following named persons contributed: Song by Mr. Fullerton; Recitation by W. J. Dwyer, who was heartily encored; Address by W. B. Nichols; Song by Mr. Mairs, of H. M. S. Constance, who also received an encore; Address by H. Rudge; Song by Mr. Johnson, of H. M. S. Constance, who was also recalled; Recitation, Brittania's Volunteers, by Mr. Prince, of H. M. S. Constance; Song by Mr. Churton, who was encored; Recitation by S. L. Trickey, "Bingen on the Rhine." The orchestra contributed some choice music during the evening, adding much to the entertainment.

New Westminster.

(Columbian.)

In Wednesday's issue of this paper we mentioned a report that the steamers Teaser and Adelaide were about to be taken off this route, and the Fraser river would be left to the C. P. N. Co. This report is authoritatively denied by the managers of the People's Line, and we are exceedingly glad to be able to make the announcement. From a public point of view the more steamers we have running on the river, and the keener the opposition the greater will be the facilities for trade.

Farmers are preparing to cut the hay crop, which looks well.

TRAFFIC REGULATION.—There is much need of the regulation of traffic on the wharves here. During the busiest hours confusion runs riot, and hardly a day passes but somebody whose duty or pleasure calls him there gets a souvenir in the shape of the bark off their shins or a puncture of their favorite corn. Yesterday an expressman lost control of his horse, nearly backed his wagon into the water, and after upsetting things generally got pitched off his seat and bruised. Fortunately some men standing near caught the horse's head and thus prevented what might have proved the cause of many injuries, as the wharf was crowded with people awaiting the arrival of the boats. A great deal, if not all, this unnecessary confusion might be stopped by the exercise of a little regulation.

Cricket.

A close and highly interesting game was played yesterday at Beacon Hill between the Cathedral Institute and an eleven of Victoria, the former winning by 17 runs. On the winning side Goepel, Jones, Martin, Drake and Carmichael all played well and hit vigorously, threes and fours constituting more than half the runs off the bat. Their bowlers divided the wickets as follows: Ward 3 for 18 (3 wides), Campbell 3 for 20, Martin 2 for 9, Arthurs 1 for 4. For Victoria, Coombe contributed a lively 23, and Pooley was just getting dangerous when he succumbed to a "shooter." Snowden was unlucky, his bat dislodging the bails, Pike made a very fine on-drive for 5. Of the bowlers Helmcken had 4 wickets for 19 runs, Drummond 3 for 21, Combe 2 for 14 (3 wides), Pooley 1 for 22. Mention should be made of Wylde's long-stopping and a well judged catch by Worsford. Temperance in Saanich.

On Friday evening the executive committee of the Blue Ribbon Club, accompanied by their band, made a trip to Saanich and organized a club of 66 members, 20 new names being added Friday evening. Following is the list of officers: President, Sluggett; Vice-Presidents, C. Alexander and A. Thompson; Secretary, G. H. Sluggett; Cor. Sec., David Kerr; Treas., David Thompson; Usher, Thos. Alexander; Choir Leader, Miss Sluggett.

LUMBER TRADE.—All over the continent there seems to be a depression in the lumber trade. The Chicago Lumberman has a letter from Millson (Wisconsin), in which it is stated that the shipments from that point, which aggregated 15,000,000 feet in 1882, decreased to 5,000,000 in 1884, and that this year they will not go above 3,000,000 feet. No one in the lumber business there has made money. The correspondent finishes with the following: "About 20 sawmills will retire from business this season within 10 miles of this town. Mills can be bought for $1000 that three years ago were considered worth $5000."

R. E. CHURCH.—In consequence of the arrival of his wife and family from California the Rev. Wm. Gill, of New Westminster, will not officiate at the R. E. C. to-day, as previously announced.

HORSES.—The Olympian yesterday brought over a number of horses, amongst which, judging from appearances, were some good drivers and general purpose horses.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. John Mair, of Sooke, was badly cut by a mowing machine, the horses attached to it having run away. One of the horses was destroyed in consequence of the injuries he had received.

SUPHUR SPRINGS.—Mr. John Beaven is about to develope his sulphur springs, recently discovered two miles back of Nanaimo. Baths will be provided for provided for invalids.

GENERAL WAR.

HOW EUROPEAN NATIONS WOULD BE PREPARED FOR IT.

Numerical Force of the Various Armies—German, French, Russian, Austrian, Italian and English—Peace Footing and War Strength.

[Brooklyn Eagle.]

The combined armies of all Europe in time of peace number about 4,000,000 men, and in time of war can be raised to the enormous aggregate of 12,500,000. As the population of all Europe is about 350,000,000, it follows that for every eighteen men able to bear arms one man is serving as a soldier in time of peace and that in time of war one fifth of the adult male population is liable to be called into the field. If the army of this country was constituted on the same basis it would number 630,000 in time of peace and at our present rate of army expenditure would cost annually three times the entire national revenue.

The strength of the French army on a peace footing is 499,000 men, of which 284,000 are infantry, 69,000 cavalry, 69,000 artillery, and 12,000 engineers. On a war footing the French could bring 3,400,000 men into the field. In time of peace 52,000 French troops are kept in Algiers.

A French regiment of infantry of the line consists of three active and one depot battalion and numbers about 2,000 men in time of peace and double that in the event of war. A regiment of cavalry consists of five squadrons, four in the field and one at the depot, and numbers 900 men. The French artillery consists of thirty-eight regiments, forming nineteen brigades Half of the artillery regiments have ten field batteries each, and the other half six field and four horse batteries. Each battery has six guns. A French corps d' armee contains about 40,000 men of all ranks, of whom 30,000 may be rated as combatants, with 108 guns.

On a peace footing the total strength of the German army is 445,000 officers and men. On a war footing its strength would be about 1,800,000 men, exclusive of the second class of the Landsturm not yet organized. The number of troops available in case of war, exclusive of the field reserve of 250,000 men and the Landsturm, would be of infantry, 1,065,000; ritlemen, 31,000; cavalry, 110,000, and field artillery, 109,000. During the last war with France the mobilization of the army was ordered on July 16, it was completed on July 26, and eight days later 462,000 German infantry, with 57,000 cavalry and 1,584 guns were in position on the left bank of the Rhine ready to invade France. In August Germany had 1,183,000 men of all arms in the field or in garrison.

The British army is recruited by voluntary enlistment, and, althouga the number varies, usually numbers 135,000 men inclusive of 65,000 British troops in India. The men are enlisted for six years and then pass into the reserves. The present strength of the army reserve is 40,000 men. In case of war the reserves are called out, and the militia, numbering 140,000 men, embodied, and should the United Kingdom be invaded, 250,000 volunteers would be available, which, with 15,000 yeomanry cavalry, would make a total force of 580,000 men. The British regulars, maintained for the defense of the United Kingdom and colonies, exclusive of India, comprise 12,500 cavalry, 22,000 artillery, 5,500 engineers, and 80,000 infantry.

The peace strength of the Russian regular army is 840,000, the war strength 2,265,000. The latter embraces 1,915,000 infantry, 95,000 cavalry and 210,000 artillery. The irregular army number 44,000 on a peace footing and 163,000 in time of war, 142,000 of this force being cavalry. The total war strength of the Russian army regulars, irregulars and militia would reach 2,735 000 men. How many of this large force the government could afford to equip and maintain in the field is another question.

The Austrian-Hungarian empire has an army of 275,000 men on a peace footing, capable of being increased to 1,350,000 on a war footing. The standing army is formed after the model of that of Prussia in the system of the universal liability to arms. The strength of Italy's standing army on a war footing is about 735,000; the mobile militia, 300,000, and the territorial militia, 1,000,000. Probably the first two figures would represent the actual force available.

The strength of the Turkish army, on a peace footing, is about 175,000 men, and on a war footing could be raised to from 400,000 to 500,000. Spain maintains a standing army of 190,000 men, capable of being increased to 450,000 in case of war. Portugal maintains an army of about 30,000 men, which could be increased to 80,000 in time of war.

The army of Belgium numbers 45,000 on a peace footing and 110,000 on a war footing. Holland maintains an army of 65,000 men in time of peace, the men being partly raised by conscription and partly enlisted. There is also a colonial army of 32,000 men. The militia and landstrum, which are liable to be called out in war time, would raise the whole available force of Holland to 175,000. Denmark, which has about as many inhabitants as the state of Massachusetts, maintains a standing army of 35,000 men in time of peace, which can be raised to 50,000 in case of war.

Sweden has four classes of troops, the enlisted troops, the national militia, the privates of which are paid and kept by the landowners, the militia by the Gothland and conscription troops These, with a few volunteers, form a force of 196,000 men available in time of war. The army on a peace footing does not exceed 41,000 men. The Norwegian army nummers 18,000 in time of peace and 40,000 in time of war.

An Antidote for Malaria.

[Exchange.]

Professor Crudell, a noted eastern scientist, lays claim to having discovered an antidote for malaria. He advises that a decoction of lemon be made as follows: Cut up one lemon, peel and all, into thin slices, put it into three glassfuls of water and boil it down to one glassful. Strain the liquid through linen, squeezing thoroughly the remains of boiled lemon, and set it aside to cool. Drink the whole amount when fasting.

"Turnips Is Feverish."

[Wall Street News.]

A Baltimore grocer bargained with a farmer a month ago for the delivery of thirty bushels of turnips, but saw nothing of either until the other day, when he inquired of the farmer:

"What about the turnips?"

"Can't bring 'em in."

"What's the matter?"

"I reckon turnips is goin' to riz."

"Pooh! What can happen to run the price of turnips up?"

"Well, my son Reuben was over t'other night, and he says he read in his paper that Russia is doing something or other, and England has said something or other, and that both want to fight about something or other, and he thinks I'd better hold on. Turnips is feverish, they is, and a war or something or other would send prices a-kiting."

March's Mean Temperature.

[Norristown Herald.]

The average temperature of last month was lower than in any March for fifteen years." And its mean temperature, we should say, was meaner than in' any March for 1,500 years.

Soldiers' Pay in China.

[Tien-Tsin Letter.]

The Chinese infantry soldier is paid once a month, when he receives 3½ taels of silver. This sum, which is equal to about 19 shillings of English money, is given to him in scrap bullion; and during the night preceding each pay day the paymasters are busily engaged in weighing out silver and making it up into neat little packages for distribution. As soon as he has obtained his share the soldier takes it to the nearest shopkeeper or moneychanger, who, in return for it, hands him 3,500 copper cash, the aggregate weight of which is quite as much as he can conveniently carry. Out of this the soldier has to keep himself in food and clothing; and the pay cannot, therefore, be called excessive.

A Chinaman, however, lives almost exclusively upon rice, a month's supply of which costs a good deal less than 1,000 cash, and many a private not only supports a family upon the balance of his earnings, but puts by a few hundred cash every month. One fellow here is said to wear several thousand cash strung on silk and concealed beneath his uniform; and I am told that he has a wife and three children who never want. Seeing that the small change for a tael weighs about five pounds, I feel sorry for this model paterfamilias.

Not Possible Out West.

[Chicago Herald.]

It has become quite fashionable in eastern cities to have amateur dramatic entertainments in which all the female parts are taken by young men. Nothing of the kind would be possible out here. Young men in the west have voices like buzz saws and faces that are red and rough. The feminine part that they could take in a drama would have to be a pretty husky one.

I HEREBY GIVE NOTICE THAT BY ORDER OF Court dated 12th June, 1885, I have been appointed Provisional Liquidator to wind up the said Company, subject to the title of Mr. A. A. Green as Mortgagee, who is, by the winding up order, authorized and empowered to proceed to a sale of the Land, Sawmill, Machinery, Chattels and Effects of the Company included in a mortgage from the Company to him.

And notice is hereby further given that all creditors and other persons whomsoever, except the Mortgagee above named, are restrained from taking or prosecuting any actions or proceedings against the Company or its assets, and that all debtors to the Company, or persons having any of its effects not included in the said mortgage, are to make payment or delivery, as the case may be, to the Official Liquidator
